

LUMINARY LOUNGE

SUNDAY 18 OCTOBER 2026 | 12:30 PM – 4:30 PM

Something wickedly wonderful this way comes...

Our October Luminary Lounge is going to be a little different. We're having a witch over for Sunday afternoon. Not the pointy-hat, green-faced, broomstick-riding variety (although I'm not ruling anything out). We're talking about the real thing.

Meet Natasha Greer, a practising witch, lover of all things magical, former coven leader of 13 years, and witchcraft mentor.

Yes, you read that correctly. Thirteen years running a coven. Apparently, getting thirteen people to agree on anything is difficult enough, let alone getting them all to turn up for a full moon!

So, what exactly does a witch do?

That's what we're going to find out. Natasha will be lifting the veil on the fascinating world of modern witchcraft, sharing her experiences, spiritual practices and what it's really like to lead a coven.

And unlike the witches in fairy tales, she's perfectly happy to answer questions. Which raises a few possibilities...

- Do witches really cast spells? And if so, can we put in requests?
- What's the difference between a witch, a psychic and someone who's simply very good at getting their own way?
- What actually happens inside a coven? And is there an annual general meeting?
- Do you need special powers to become a witch, or just a healthy disregard for conventional thinking?
- And most importantly, can you turn an ex-partner into a toad, or are there ethical restrictions?

But there's a deeper side to Natasha's story.

Natasha has also offered to share how her witchcraft and spiritual practice played a role in her personal journey through cancer. That's a very different kind of magic. One that touches on courage, resilience, personal power and the spiritual resources we draw upon when life becomes genuinely challenging.

I suspect there will be some fascinating insights, a few surprises and perhaps a misconception or two sent flying out the window.

And, of course, there's our usual Luminary Lounge magic...

We'll have our tarot reading practice, lively conversations, a little learning, plenty of laughter and the wonderful company that makes these Sunday afternoons so special.

SUNDAY 18 OCTOBER 2026 | 12:30 PM – 4:30 PM | NEW FARM, BRISBANE

$50 casual visitors | Included for 2026 Foundation Members

No broomstick required. Parking for flying objects may be limited.

Cheers, Andrew

P.S. If you arrive as a frog, we'll assume you've had a disagreement with Natasha and find you a nice damp corner until we can sort things out.
